

Have you established an idea of permanency as yet as it relates to language learning? This worksheet will make SURE that you are SURE in your decision to learn a language.

Answer the following questions either mentally or on the worksheet itself. These questions will help determine how serious you are when it comes to learning a language.

Are you willing to spend hours each week to develop your language skills?

Do you vow to give your best learning attempt whenever studying the language?

Do you see this language as a permanent part of your life 5 years later?

How often do you see yourself interacting with native speakers?

Are you ready to leave your comfort zones?

Did you answer these questions honestly? Yes or No.

List at least 3 attachments this language will have to your personal life (i.e family, work, travel, lifestyle, education etc.)
